AASHTO 2022 Conference on Performance-Based Management, Planning, and Data

AASHTO's 2022 Conference on Performance-Based Management, Planning and Data will bring together three AASHTO committees to meet and discuss critical technical, research, workforce, and policy discussions surrounding performance management, planning, and data management and analytics. With an estimated 300 participants from all 52 AASHTO member departments, regional and local agencies, and researchers, this is a unique opportunity to reach out and connect with key decision makers at State DOTs.
